DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 1-20 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on July 5, 2005.
2. Applicant's election of invention, Group II, claims 21-22 in the reply filed on July 5, 2005 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Specification

3. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested: VIA FORMED IN A POLYMER LAYER

Claim Objections

4. Claims 21 and 22 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Claim 21, line 2 recites: said polymer layer. The correct term should be -- a polymer layer --.

Claim 22, line 2 recites: said semiconductor substrate. The correct term should be -- a semiconductor substrate --.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yu et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,004,883).

With respect to claim 21, insofar as the device is concerned, Yu teaches a device including a via as claimed including:

- a hard-mask (18) on a polymer layer (16);
- a photoresist mask (20) on the hard-mask (18);
- a via hole (25) with vertical sidewalls formed in the polymer layer. (See Fig. 3).

Product by process limitation:

The expression “placing” and “releasing a first fluoride gas into a chamber to etch a hard-mask opening for defining said via hole; and releasing a second fluoride gas into said chamber to etch an exposed portion of said polymer layer defining said via hole with vertical sidewalls” is/are taken to be a product by process limitation and is given no patentable weight. A product by process claim directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Hirao, 190 USPQ 15 at 17 (footnote 3). See In re Fessman, 180 USPQ 324, 326 (CCPA 1974); In re Marosi et al., 218 USPQ 289, 292 (Fed. Cir. 1983); In re Brown, 459 F.2d 531, 535, 173 USPQ 685, 688 (CCPA 1972); In re Pilkington, 411

Art Unit: 2814

F.2d 1345, 1348, 162 USPQ 145, 147 (CCPA 1969); Buono v. Yankee Maid Dress Corp., 77 F.2d 274, 279, 26 USPQ 57, 61 (2d. Cir. 1935); and particularly In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985), all of which make it clear that it is the patentability of the final structure of the product “gleaned” from the process steps, which must be determined in a “product by process” claim, and not the patentability of the process. See also MPEP 2113. Moreover, an old and obvious product produced by a new method is not a patentable product, whether claimed in “product by process” claims or not.

Note that Applicant has burden of proof in such cases as the above case law makes clear.

6. Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Schuck, III et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,868,951).

With respect to claim 22, insofar as the device as concerned, Schuck teaches a device having a via as claimed including:

a polymer layer having sub-micron wide tapered sidewalls via-opening on a semiconductor substrate; and a hard-mask having sub-micron wide via-opening on the polymer layer. (See Fig. 4A).

Product by process limitation:

The expression “placing in a chamber” ; “defining” ; “deposited”
“releasing a third fluoride gas into said chamber; applying bias power within the range of approximately 105 Watts to approximately 120 Watts; applying pulse-modulated power within the range of approximately 725 Watts to approximately 755 Watts; pressurizing said third fluoride gas within a range of approximately 5 milli-Torr to approximately 20 milli-Torr; and continuing the above steps until etching said hard-mark and an exposed portion of said polymer layer proximal to said sub-micron wide via-opening creating tapered sidewalls” is/are taken to be a product by process limitation and is given no patentable weight. A product by process claim directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Hira, 190 USPQ 15 at 17 (footnote 3). See In re Fessman, 180 USPQ 324, 326 (CCPA 1974); In re Marosi et al., 218 USPQ 289, 292 (Fed. Cir. 1983); In re Brown, 459 F.2d 531, 535, 173 USPQ 685, 688 (CCPA 1972); In re Pilkington, 411 F.2d 1345, 1348, 162 USPQ 145, 147 (CCPA 1969); Buono v. Yankee Maid Dress Corp., 77 F.2d 274, 279, 26 USPQ 57, 61 (2d. Cir. 1935); and particularly In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985), all of which make it clear that it is the patentability of the final structure of the product “gleaned” from the process steps, which must be determined in a “product by process” claim, and not the patentability of the process. See also MPEP 2113. Moreover, an old and obvious product produced by a new method is not a patentable product, whether claimed in “product by process” claims or not.

Note that Applicant has burden of proof in such cases as the above case law makes clear.
